Second Annual
Acute Myocardial Infarction Update:

Big Ten Topics in STEMI Management: 2010

Join The Ohio State University Heart and Vascular Center for a weekend of Big Ten action. First, network with colleagues while learning the latest in STEMI care. Then, be part of the excitement as The Ohio State University Buckeyes football team takes on the Ohio University Bobcats.* Visit www.osu.edu to learn more about the game.

* Game tickets are not included in course registration.
Target Audience

- Cardiologists
- Internal medicine physicians
- Emergency medicine physicians
- Family practice physicians
- Nurse practitioners
- Nurses
- Allied health professionals

Understanding the recent changes in the care of the Segment-Elevation Myocardial Infarction patient is crucial to improving patient outcomes and quality of life. The purpose of this two-day symposium is to improve upon these outcomes. The past year has brought to us the American Heart Association and American College of Cardiology’s Focused Updates for the management of patients with Segment-elevation myocardial infarction. We are also seeing new, studied and proven trends in the medical and interventional management of STEMI. This course will help the regional physician, nurse or allied healthcare provider identify the changes in the pharmacolgocs and interventional management of STEMI and evaluate the collaborative efforts of multidisciplinary professionals necessary for successful STEMI programs and STEMI systems. Expert review lectures and clinical case presentations offer an up-to-date review of the genetics, pathophysiology, pharmacology and catheter-based therapies for treatment of acute myocardial infarction. Emphasis will be placed on the review of treatments and therapies being used in the patient’s recovery from STEMI.

At the conclusion of this activity, participants will be able to:

- Apply new metrics for myocardial infarction in at-risk patients
- Appraise new pharmacological approaches for the management of STEMI
- Describe novel therapies for the recovery of patients post-STEMI
September 17, 2010

7:30 a.m. Registration and Breakfast

8:30 a.m. Welcome to the Richard M. Ross Heart Hospital and The Ohio State University Heart and Vascular Center

Thomas Ryan, MD

8:45 a.m. Overview of STEMI Management in 2010: Where We Are and Where We Need to Be

Vincent Pompili, MD

9 a.m. Insights into the Pathophysiology of Acute Coronary Syndrome with OCT: A Close Look at the Vessel from Inside Out

Marco Costa, MD, PhD

9:45 a.m. Primary PCI Pharmacoinvasive Strategies for STEMI: What to Do After 90 Minutes

Ernest Mazzaferri Jr., MD

10:15 a.m. Break

10:30 a.m. The Next Generation of Oral Platelet Inhibition for STEMI and ACS: Are the Bleeding Risks Too Great?

Richard Gumina, MD, PhD

11 a.m. Transradial Approach to PCI in Acute Myocardial Infarction: Will Our Patients be Walking Out of the Cath Lab?

Quinn Capers IV, MD

11:30 a.m. Break/Pick Up Lunch

Charanjit (Chet) Rihal, MD

1 p.m. New Horizons in Interventional Cardiovascular Medicine at Ohio State: From Stem Cell Therapies for Myocardial Infarction Repair to Percutaneous Aortic Valve Replacement: The Future is Now

Vincent Pompili, MD

2 p.m. Strategies in the Treatment of High-Risk PCI in STEMI: LV Assist to ECMO

Michael Firstenberg, MD

2:30 p.m. Break

2:45 p.m. Filter-Based Distal Protection and Thrombectomy in STEMI PCI: The Data Remains Unclear

Dean Boudoulas, MD

3:15 p.m. Invasive Strategies for the Treatment of Pulmonary Embolism

Gary Ansel, MD
3:45 p.m.  Management of LV Dysfunction and Refractory Heart Failure
After STEMI: A Role for Long-term Invasive Monitoring -
Results of the Champion Trial
William Abraham, MD

4:30 p.m.  Navy Versus OSU: A Successful Case Study Both on the Field and off the Field
Ernie Mazzaferri Jr., MD

* If you have a case to share, please email it to ellen.yokoyama@osumc.edu

Evening Education Opportunity
Critical Role of Cardiac Support in Patients with Hemodynamic Compromise

5:15 p.m.  Principles of Hemodynamics: The New Science of Cardiac
Support in the Cath Lab
John Lasala, MD, PhD

5:35 p.m.  Late-Breaking Clinical Data-Its Impact on Complex Cases and Urgent Care
Srihari Naidu, MD

5:55 p.m.  Cardiac Support in STEMI Interventions: Preserving the Myocardium and Impact on Guidelines
Steven Yakubov, MD

6:15 p.m.  A Scientific Review of Cases
John Lasala, MD, PhD; Srihari Naidu, MD; Vincent Pompili, MD; and Steven Yakubov, MD

This additional education opportunity is free, but registration is required. Please indicate if you will attend on the course registration form.

September 18

7:30 a.m.  Registration and Breakfast

8:30 a.m.  The Nuts and Bolts of Creating a Successful STEMI Program:
The Devil Is in the Details
Ernest Mazzaferri Jr., MD, and Sharon Hammond, RN, BSN, MA

9 a.m.  Visceral Cases: Cath Lab 2010
Charles Bush, MD, and Raymond Magorien, MD

10 a.m.  From Fellowship to Practice: Networking Brunch
Vincent Pompili, MD, Moderator

11 a.m.  Course Adjourn

Join us for a special Networking Brunch: From Fellowship to Practice, after the course. Registration is required, please make sure to indicate you will attend on the course registration form.
