THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

WEXNER MEDICAL CENTER

Welcome to The Sixth Annual Ruberg Symposium

Welcome to the Sixth Annual Ruberg Symposium, a celebration of Dr. Robert Ruberg's lifelong service to all of us. We hope that this will be a wonderful time of professional and personal enjoyment for the Ohio State University Plastic Surgery family.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of this activity, learners will be able to:

- Perform body contouring for patients after massive weight loss.
- Address pre-operative issues and maximize patient safety for patients undergoing body contouring procedures following massive weight loss.
- Utilize new FDA-approved technologies in liposuction procedures.
- Describe the increasing complexity in different breast reconstruction techniques.
- Describe the surgical treatment of ptosis of the upper eye lid.
- Address patient safety issues in the operating room; minimize morbidity and surgical errors.
- Utilize new techniques in gluteal augmentation; techniques in autologous fat transfer.
- Describe strategies available for planning and executing successful plastic surgery experiences abroad.
- Transition from an active surgical practice to a non-clinical practice.
